WHAT IS NEKOFEEDER?

The main purpose of NekoFeeder is to allow normal weight cats' full access to food anytime for self-feeding of daily portioned or non-portioned food, while keeping overweight cats, cats with food allergies or dogs away from available food. This allows all cats' meals to be regulated by the owner. There are other uses as well!

NekoFeeder can also:

- Allow a portioned (or not) amount of food to be accessed only by authorized cats enabling owner to regulate all cats' meals.
- Keep dogs or other animals from eating your cat's food (N.F. Lite)
- Give authorized cats a "private space" if there is tension with another cat or dog.
- Be easily converted to a normal pet carrier and back to NekoFeeder in minutes.
- Keep dogs away from your kitty's litter box (NekoFeeder Lite)
- Have up to 2 NekoFeeders per household with different keys (Extra keys sold separately.)
- Allow more than one cat to access one NekoFeeder

NEKOFEEDER LITE

NekoFeeder Lite is a less expensive version that does not have access control. For this, the door does not lock and is open all the time. It is perfect if you have at least 1 cat and 1 dog and wish to keep your dog from eating the cat's food or litter box!

FROM OUR VETERINARIAN

"In our practice, most of our multi-cat households have one cat with dietary restrictions, such as being over-weight or having food allergies.

The NekoFeeder is the practical solution for controlling food intake without having to shut pets in separate rooms for feeding.

The owner can rest assured that caloric intake will be controlled, and foods that cause allergies will not be available.

The NekoFeeder would also keep a dog from cleaning out the litter box!"

Denise Kessler, DVM, Affectionately Cats, Charlotte, Vermont

HOW DOES NEKOFEEDER WORK?

---

The system works by unlocking the door on the front of the space via a tag on the cat's collar. He or she can then open the door by pushing on it and entering the isolated space to eat. More than one cat may have access to one NekoFeeder and up to 2 separate purpose NekoFeeders can be used per household. NekoFeeder Lite works in the same way, but the door does not lock.

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO TRAIN MY CAT?

Your cat's personality will determine how long he or she will take to get used to the NekoFeeder. However, even skittish cats should be using it normally within two weeks or so.

The best way is to start in small steps: First leave the door open for a few days, then close the main door but leave the cat door open for a few more days, and finally close the cat door and gently encourage him or her to go in. Voila!

ABOUT NEKOFEEDER

In 2000, we got two kittens as a housewarming gift, Hana and Neko. (Neko' is Japanese for 'cat.') After growing out of the kitten stage, Neko gained quite a bit of weight, while Hana had no problem at all. We tried unsuccessfully to control Neko's weight, but everything we did negatively affected Hana. Then came NekoFeeder. After using it for a little over a year, Neko has reached a healthier weight, while Hana has stayed about the same.
